EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Jeff Killian on 9/30/05.

The application has been amended as follows: the claims have been amended as on the attached pages.

In the title, "and packaging containers produced from the packaging material" has been deleted.

Reasons for Allowance

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the prior art of record does not teach or fairly suggest a method of making a packaging material having a gas barrier dispersion coated on a carrier, dried, united with a paper core with the carrier between the core and gas barrier, curing the gas barrier at a temperature higher than the drying, and then extruding outer layers of thermoplastic on the barrier and core. While the references individually teach portions of the claim, (i.e. Berlin '812 teaching coating a polymer layer on a carrier, drying it, and uniting it with a core, Berlin '536 teaching coating a polymer layer on a core, drying it, and curing it at a higher temperature than the drying) the references do not teach the concept of curing the barrier layer after joining to a core but before extruding the thermoplastic outer layers. While Wilkinson et al. teaches drying and curing, the curing occurs after assembly of the final product. In Berlin '812, there is no curing while in Berlin '536 there is no uniting of a dried barrier layer with the core. The references do not teach performing the steps in the order required by the claims. Moreover, in Berlin '812 the barrier layer is between the carrier and the core, rather than the carrier layer being between the barrier and the core as is required by the claims.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
